Kennedy Aid Fund Started For Students

Tentatively scheduled to be available to students next year is the John Fitzgerald Kennedy Memorial Scholarship for Excellence.

A total of five scholarships are planned, one for each undergraduate class plus one scholarship for the graduate level.

According to Dr. Albert Hill, chairman of the coordinating committee of the Omaha Citizens' Committee for the J.F.K. scholarships, each one will be worth $1,200 to the student.

A goal of $125,000 has been set for all five scholarships.

Twenty-five thousand dollars will be allocated to each scholarship, Dr. Hill said. The sum will be put into a trust fund to accumulate interest for the scholarships.

To qualify for the grant, a student must be interested in public service work, maintain a good academic standard, and finally, write an essay which will be judged.

Dr. Hill said the first two scholarships to be established will be for the Juniors and Seniors. Then, as more money becomes available, the others will be set up.

According to Dr. Hill, the response from the students has been "magnificent." Students at last week's convocation contributed nearly $1,000 toward the establishment of these scholarships.

Students have until today to contribute to the fund drive. A booth was set up on the main floor in the Student Center. Those desiring to contribute after that date may send their checks to the John F. Kennedy Memorial Fund, Treasurer, University of Omaha.

Fund raising activities planned for the near future are a faculty-student basketball game. One student from each organization will be selected to participate.

Through Thursday, today and Saturday, booths have been set up in Safeway stores throughout the area for contributions. Students representing the various campus organizations will be manning these booths.

Top Five in Tomahawk Beauty Contest: (l-r) Christie Jensen, Marleen Maguire, Susan J. Johnson, Phyllis Faase and Sarah Edwards.

Tomahawk Beauty Queens

Omaha University's main auditorium turned into a beauty pageant Wednesday afternoon as 17 coeds competed for the title of Tomahawk Beauty Queen.

Making top honors was Susan Jo Johnson, a 19-year-old sophomore.

Miss Johnson is majoring in English and Drama and is a member of Chi Omega social sorority. She has participated in several University play productions and one-act plays.

First runner-up honors went to Phyllis Faase, a junior majoring in Biology. She is also a member of Chi Omega and has been a cheerleader for the past two years.

Second runner-up, Marleen

Maguire, is one of Omaha U's featured baton twirlers. She is a sophomore, majoring in music and a member of Alpha Xi Delta sorority.

Capturing fourth place honors was Junior Sarah Edwards. She is also a member of Chi Omega and is majoring in Education.

Rounding out the top five was Junior Christie Jensen. She is also an education major and a member of Alpha Xi Delta.

Contestants were judged on personality, beauty and poise.

The girls had personal interviews during the morning with the panel of three judges who had the task of picking the winners.

Escorts for this year's pageant were John Haasig, Bill

Campbell, Doug Huber and Bruce Hunter.

Susan Rester, the 1963 Queen presented the winner and her attendants gifts and University President Dr. Milo Ball had a bouquet of red roses for the 1964 Queen.

Master of ceremonies for the pageant was Richard Russell.

Other girls participating were: Parsia Mende, Patty Goldapp, Cathy Stoeber, Joan McShan- non, Susan Cunningham, Glen Sue Tony, Pat Genge, Kathy Bowman and Sue Collins.

Also entered were Carolyn Burdick, Linda Black and Leslie Kriggs.

The contest is sponsored by the University yearbook, The Tomahawk.

Two Serve As Panelists

Warren Wittekind, Executive Secretary of the Alumni Association and Robert McGranahan, Director of General Printing and Information attended the Mid-America District Meeting of the American Alumni Council this week.

Both men served as panelists while attending the Sioux Falls meeting.

Wittekind appeared on a panel concerning "Tracing the Lost Alumnus."

McGranahan appeared on a panel dealing with College Public Relations.

CO-ED OF THE WEEK

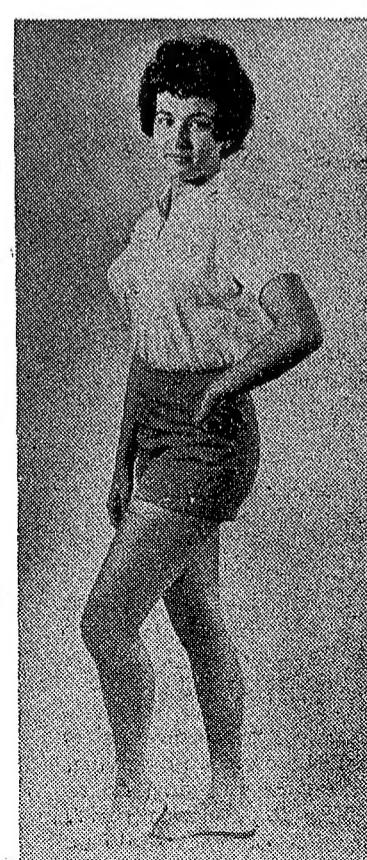

Dressed for the weather or not, nineteen-year-old Kristy Isaacson is the GATEWAY'S first December "Co-ed Of The Week".

Kristy is a member of the freshman class and is a Chi Omega pledge. She is a 1962 graduate of Westside High School and is attending O.U. on a Regents Scholarship. She has decided on the field of education for her study major.

On campus, she is a member of the University Indians and has recently won a seat on the Student Council.

As for extracurricular activities, our first December "Co-ed" is an ardent tennis player having captained her team in high school. As for other sports, Kristy says she prefers football but enjoys all sports.

The GATEWAY expresses its thanks to Kristy for braving the weather and offers congratulations to her as our "Co-ed Of The Week."

64 Awarded Ak-Sar-Ben Scholarships

Frank B. Morrison, Governor of Nebraska, was one of the many dignitaries looking on as 64 Omaha University students received Ak-Sar-Ben scholarships yesterday.

Board of Regents President Varro H. Rhodes termed the scholarships a tremendous investment in the youth of Omaha.

The Ak-Sar-Ben scholarship fund began four years ago with 16 freshmen and added 16 each year until now when we have a full complement of 64 students.

At the scholarship luncheon in the Student Center the students got to meet their benefactors, King and Queen Ak-Sar-Ben LXIX, the Ak-Sar-Ben governors, Councilors and Administrative officers.

The recipients were:

Marsha Abel, Education, Freshman; Thomas Allen, Education Freshman; David Baxter, Science, Junior; John Berkheimer, Liberal Arts, Freshman; Patricia Blackman, Education, Sophomore; Gail Browning, Humanities, Senior; Beverly Ann Burrows, Mathematics, Freshman; Diane Cade, Applied Arts, Junior; Marilyn Chase, Education, Freshman; Jerry Corby, Science, Sophomore; David Cowley, History, Senior; Allie Crenshaw, History, Senior; Joyce Szemplenski, Elementary Education, Junior; Loren Drum, Civil Engineering, Junior; Rudy Duda, Civil Engineering, Junior; Frederick Elsasser, Speech, Junior; Kristene Eskesen, Elementary Education, Sophomore; Hertine Fareall, Medical Technology, Freshman and Leona Forsberg, Journalism, Sophomore.

EDITORIAL VOICE

On November 25, three days after the assassination of President Kennedy, ten faculty members along with several representatives from the Student Council met at the home of Dr. Albert Hill to discuss the John Fitzgerald Kennedy Memorial Scholarship. At this meeting, various ways and means to collect money for the proposed scholarship were discussed, along with the kick-off date for the fund-raising campaign.

Also, one idea brought up at that meeting was the possibility of using a portion of the collected funds for a grant for faculty members.

We feel that an appropriation of a portion of the funds for a faculty grant is indeed a very worthwhile pursuit.

At a meeting Tuesday, the Omaha Citizens' Committee for the JFK Memorial Scholarship for Excellence set forth its purpose.

It was resolved to establish scholarships on all class levels: senior, junior, sophomore, freshman and first year graduate, in that order. At the conclusion of the set of purposes is a sentence that reads: "Funds raised beyond those necessary for capitalizing the student scholarships will be used to capitalize an annual grant to a member of the faculty for advanced study and research."

We feel that the scholarship committee is right in first establishing the scholarship for a worthy student, but not five students before a faculty grant is presented.

At the present time, each scholarship would be worth $1,250. This would come from the interest drawn on each $25,000 in the fund. This means that it would take a fund of some $125,000 for all five scholarships. Then, any money in the grant after this $125,000 would be used for the faculty grant.

At this writing, the committee has only $123,900 to go before the first five complete scholarships can be made.

How many decades then will it be before the first grant is made to a member of the faculty?

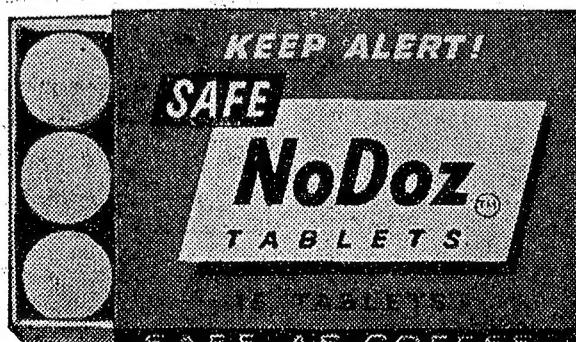

Since the University of Omaha isn't the most financially endowed school in the country, we feel a great need in the area of faculty grants for further study.

Not only would this grant do great justice to the present faculty, it would enhance the University as a whole. We're sure that the university possesses deserving faculty for such an award. Why not start with those who had the integrity to initiate the scholarship?

The scholarship committee noted that such a memorial is fitting indeed, in the light that the late President "was himself vitally interested in young people and expanding and improving educational opportunities".

How true this statement is. However, education cannot be improved unless the educator also strives for continued scholarship and a faculty grant is one way to achieve this.

'Collage' Art On Exhibition

"Collage In San Francisco", a touring exhibition from the Art Bank of the San Francisco Art Institute, opened on the third floor of the Student Center at 7:30 p.m., Monday night.

The exhibit will run to Dec. 20 and is open to all from 1 to 4 p.m., Monday through Friday.

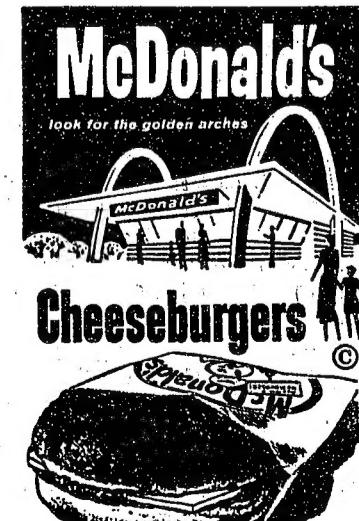

Collage, is a particular art form. The picture is created by attaching bits of flowers, pieces of paper, machine parts and even the soles of shoes to the canvas. The amount of "foreign material" that is put in the picture is up to the artist. Some cover the entire working surface with bits and pieces while others use only a few articles in the picture.

Fred Martin, Executive Secretary of the Art Institute said, "Collage has recently received much attention in the art press and museums and galleries. Much of this has been in the hope that collage may become a powerful force in the situation commonly called 'the crisis of art in our time'. This interest has waned in the past year or two and so the interests of revolutionary art historians have turned to pop art. Thus a collage exhibition is no longer a call to the barricades. Collage designates once more a particular medium with particular disciplines, potentialities and sensibilities."

The Art Bank of the San Francisco Art Institute is a collection of current work by over 200 leading West Coast painters, sculptors and printmakers.

LETTERS TO THE EDITORS

Dear Editor:

The tragedy of November 22nd affected the lives of all of us in many ways; perhaps in some ways the death of a dedicated and patriotic American will bring to many, a new meaning for life.

The people of the world joined together to express their deep sorrow over the tragedy of that black Friday, and demonstrated again that a united world is possible.

On the following Wednesday, this University paid its final tribute to John Fitzgerald Kennedy by announcing the J. F. K. Memorial Scholarship of Excellence. I stood in attendance at that convocation. I could not help but see the good that resulted from this tragedy. Four thousand students from our University stood in silence, with reverence, and recited the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag; an act I have not witnessed in public since my grammar school days.

I felt a new sense of pride in the University of Omaha and its students; students who forgot their prejudices of a week earlier, forgot whether they were democrats or republicans, and moved by the realization that a great and dedicated man was dead, gave one thousand dollars in memory of their beloved President.

It is appropriate that a J. F. K. Memorial Scholarship should originate at Omaha University, for as one student stated, Omaha University is a "melting pot". For it is a university made up of students of all races, creeds, and nationalities. It is a school with a dedicated faculty and administration, all striving to achieve the excellence demonstrated by our late President.

I know that I speak for the student body when I say thank you to the administration, faculty, that wonderful choir, the three student speakers, and all who contributed to that moving tribute to John Kennedy. I'm sure that all students must feel new pride in our University, and will show that pride by striving for the excellence achieved by the late President, John Fitzgerald Kennedy.

Sincerely,
Rolland C. Johnson, President
Nebraska Luther League

For Whom?

Dear Editor,

Friday, I left my coat and my books in the student center lounge—a common practice, due largely to the lines that form at the check room. When I returned, after one cup of coffee, my coat was missing. After a frantic search, I found our little Southern Belle, Lady Crowder. She informed me that "this is not allowed," and told me that next time I might not get my coat back! According to her directions, I found my White coat wadded into a ball, lying on the floor.

I have four questions—for whom does the student center operate? The students or the afore-mentioned Southern Belle? Who gave our friend the right to meddle with MY PERSONAL PROPERTY. Who gave this charming creature the right to threaten me? And last but not least, who is going to pay to have the coat cleaned? I know the answer to the last question—me.

Everything Fine . . . Until
Dear Editor,

Ever since the University administration has banned books, coats, briefcases, etc., from the second floor cafeteria, it has come under fire from several sources, not the least the GATEWAY.

I direct your attention to an experience that I had Tuesday morning after a class. After sitting in class, I found it to be a "good idea" to trudge over to the cafeteria for coffee.

Everything was fine—until I got up to leave for my next class. It was then that I noticed a rather long line extending from the checkroom ending near the second floor elevator.

Manning the facility was one lonely student employee feverishly working. After 10 to 15 minutes, I got my "gear" and by hustling, managed to make it to my next class on time.

I feel the solution to this problem, if this checkroom "insanity" is to continue, is that the administration will have to employ additional personnel.

Otherwise give up the idea as a bad dream.

All faculty members in the College of Business are invited. The tea will be from 3:30 to 5 p.m. in room 312 SC.

All members of Phi Chi Theta are urged to attend.

OU Co-ed Wins By Setting Table

A University of Omaha senior won a table setting contest sponsored by a downtown department store.

Home Ec major Sandy Bergstadt was selected as the winner last week.

Sandy and three other co-eds from Omaha colleges set tables using china, sterling silver and centerpieces.

For her table, Sandy chose Rosenthal's "White Velvet" and a Gorham sterling silver pattern.

She used a gold and beige metallic tablecloth and a grape-filled brandy snifter as a centerpiece.

The tables were judged and voted on by customers who saw them in the store.

As a prize, Sandy was given two place settings of china and one place setting of sterling.

Besides her studies, Sandy is an active member of Alpha Xi Delta Sorority, the Home Ec Club and the Student Education Association.

Young Omaha Squad Finishes 8th As Emporia Wins NAIA Meet

by JIM GEMBER

John Camien and Ireland Sloan, Emporia State superstars lived up to pre-meet predictions as they finished one-two in the NAIA Cross-Country Championships held Saturday in Elmwood Park.

Camien took the title with a 20:23.7 finish over the four-mile course compared to Sloan's time of 20:31. Camien, one of the nation's top distance men, has now won the NAIA meet, the NCAA small College meet, and has come in second in the NCAA major college tournament.

Emporia's one-two finish however did not help them win the championship. The defending champs had to settle for second place as Fort Hays wrestled the title away after taking second place last year. Previous to this meet Emporia had taken the title four out of the last five years.

OU's freshman laden squad, paced by a fourteenth place finish by Ken Gould, took eighth. Freshman Gerry Shook came in 30th.

An entry of 103 runners from 22 schools was the greatest in the eighth annual event. Meet Director Ernie Gorr stated that it was the first time in the event's history that every starter finished.

'Big Pete' Drafted By Green Bay, Chiefs

Omaha University's 296 pound senior tackle Jack Petersen was on the receiving end of many honors this past week.

Petersen was named to the Associated Press Little

All-America second team on Tuesday. He is the only Nebraska college player so honored.

"Big Pete" was also a high draft choice of the professional Kansas City Chiefs of the AFL and the Green Bay Packers of the NFL.

The Packers took him in the 11th round while the Chiefs drafted him in the 17th round during the AFL round robin.

Three Veterans Greet New Grappling Coach

A new coach always has lots of worries. Wrestling mentor Don Benning is no exception.

With only three veterans returning to the mats, Benning will have to rely on a freshman dominated team to start the season. Jim Fuxa, Phil Goduto, and Jimmy Jones are the returning letterman expected to shoulder the task of leading the squad to victory.

The grapplers open their ten-meet schedule this Tuesday as they journey to Lamoni, Iowa, to take on Graceland. The Indians first home match will be Dec. 17, against Adams State.

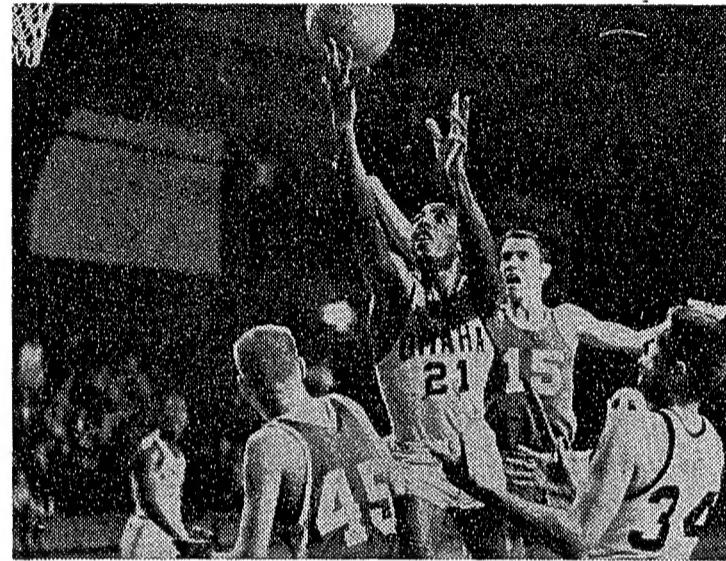

Basketball Team Starts Season Strong With Two Lopsided Wins

Midland Downed by 82-54 After Slow Omaha Start

Remnants of the football season and a slow starting first quarter and strong finish were carried over to the basketball team as they took their second win Tuesday night. The victim was Midland College. The Warriors took an 82-54 pasting before a crowd of nearly a thousand.

It was a strong starting Midland team as they had the Indians at bay by 20-16 after 10 minutes of the game was gone. With two and a half minutes left in the first half the game was knotted at 24-all.

But then the fire was lit in the Indians campsite as they started to roll. They controlled the ball and hit steadily until half time. The teams went to the dressing rooms with OU on top 42-28.

Jim Meyers Breaks Through Midland Defense to Score Lay-up.

The second half saw tough action under the boards and better shooting by the Omaha five. Coach Jim Borshiem again used the big lead to his advantage as he substituted freely with rookies to give them the vitally needed experience.

Sam Singleton led OU with a whopping 21 points, 20 of which were from the field. Mike Demkowski controlled the boards as he grabbed 16 rebounds. In all OU had 57 rebounds to Midlands 38.

Omaha compiled an average of 43 per cent from the floor compared to a weak 26.2 for the Warriors. Gene Oliver of Midland was his team's high scorer with 19 points.

Jim Meyers and Paul Kaster carried the team on defense when the going was tight.

Zeke Moe Joes, Sig Eps, Darts In Lead For Top Spot In Intramural Basketball

The three top teams during the '63 Intramural football campaign hold the same positions currently in the basketball race.

Zeke Moe Joes, Sig Eps and the Darts all hold records of 3-0, while the Fugitives are 2-0. Lit Pikes stand on top of League No. 3 with a 3-0 tally while the Eagles and Cagers hold records of 2-0 and 1-0 respectively. The standings:

LEAGUE 1
Darts	3
Zekes	0
Sig Eps	3
Pi Kaps	1
TKE	1
Lambda Chi	0
Delta Rho	0
Theta Chi	4

LEAGUE 2
Bootstrappers	3
Cherubs	0
Fugitives	2
Fliers	1
Royals	2
Warriors	1
P. E. Majors	1
Celtics	3
Graduates	4

LEAGUE 3
Lit Pikes	3
Eagles	2
Cagers	1
Wonders	2
Delta Sigs	1
Woodsies	1
Iota Delta	0
Rinky Dinks	0

With a record of 34-6; rolling the high team series of 2808 and high team game of 862, Bootstrapper No. 1 holds first place in the hot and heavy Intramural bowling race.

TKE with a 21,227 total pin mark and a record of 32½-7½ is runner-up.

The men's Intramural Wrestling tournament will be held on December 17. All contestants must weigh-in before noon with competition starting at 1:00.

Matches this year will be single elimination.

Nine weight classes are set up, they are: 128 lb., 130 lb., 137 lb., 147 lb., 157 lb., 167 lb., 177 lb., 191 lb., and heavyweight. Entry points for teams will be 15 points plus 1 point for an entry in each weight. Total entry will be 24 points.

Cagers Seek Third Win At Morningside

OU's hustling Indians, seeking their third straight win of the young season, travel to Sioux City tonight to meet the Morningside College Chiefs.

The Iowans are members of the perennially tough North Central Conference and opened their season last Saturday evening with a win over Westmar College.

OU coach Jim Borsheim is expected to string along with his original starting five. Sam Singleton, who harvested 21 points against Midland, seems to have nailed down one pivot spot.

Freshman Mike Demkowski, a valuable asset as a relief man, will probably spell Singleton and Larry Villnow when one or the other needs a rest.

Freshman Marlin Briscoe joined the squad this week after a change of heart. Briscoe had decided to concentrate on his studies following a long football season but changed his mind when his grades took a turn for the better.

OU Rocks Simpson In Seasonal Opener

The OU cagers showed promises of having their best season in many years when they swamped the Simpson College team in the OU home opener 78 to 59. Coach Jim Borsheim had five starters in double figures in the Nov. 30, contest as twelve Indians saw action during the encounter.

Showing some of the style which made him an All-Stater in New Jersey, Sam Singleton, 6'5" freshman, opened the scoring for the Indians during the first minute of play. Simpson, using the Auburn shuffle offense installed by coach Les Deaton, made a tight game of it for the first few minutes.

With Jim Myers scoring from the free throw lane and Singleton, Mike Demkowski, Charles Myers, and Paul Kaster hitting from the floor, the Indians opened up to a 10 point margin at halftime 34 to 24.

Kaster dropped the long bombs and Larry Villnow tipped in the short shots as the OU cagers pulled away at the start of the second half. As the Indians held a considerable lead, Borsheim started substituting freely and the two teams played even during the last minutes of the ball game.

OU was hot from the floor as they hit a 50.7 percentage while Simpson hit 43.3 percent. Jim Myers sank 10 of 12 from the free throw line as the Indians made 16 of 20. Simpson managed only 7 of 10.
